Luján to Encourage New Mexicans to Help Over the Holidays

Washington, DC – On Wednesday, Rep. Ben Ray Luján will begin his “Lend a Hand” tour where he will visit community organizations throughout New Mexico and encourage New Mexicans to lend a hand during the holiday season. In Santa Fe, Rep. Luján will visit several community organizations including The Food Depot and St. Elizabeth's Shelter. He will discuss the importance of these community organizations and encourage New Mexicans to use the holiday season to help people in need.

“During the holiday season, we should all look for ways we can help those who could use a helping hand, especially those in our own communities,” said Rep. Luján. “Over the next month, I will reach out to the people of New Mexico and encourage them help out how they can, while doing my part to help our communities and those in need.”
