

What's in the news about Ben and the 3rd Congressional District.

Money for Community College Energy Training (ABQ Journal, John Fleck Blog)

Rep. Ben Ray Lujan stopped by Santa Fe Community College today (Mon. 10/5) to kick off a push for federal legislation that would provide funding for junior colleges to train students to work in green energy jobs. The Community College Energy Training Act of 2009, which Lujan is cosponsoring, would provide $100 million grants for places like SFCC to train students to work on wind and solar projects.

Lujan announces bill to augment college energy training (New Mexico Free Press)

Ben Ray Luján announced on Oct. 5 the introduction of the Community College Energy Training Act of 2009 at Santa Fe Community College. ...

Navajo-Gallup Water Project now a reality: Azua represents Gallup at signing (Gallup Independent)

GALLUP — Secretary of the Interior Ken Salazar joined New Mexico's congressional delegation Thursday to advance a vital water supply that will provide clean, safe and reliable water to a quarter of a million people on the Navajo Nation, the city of Gallup and the Jicarilla Apache Nation. The action clears the way for resolving the Navajo Nation's long-standing water rights claims in the state...