

Over the past few days, our offices have received a heavy call volume. Rep. Luján is committed to hearing from his constituents, and he appreciates any efforts to contact his office.

Unfortunately, because of the high call volume, you may receive a busy signal or you may reach our voicemail system. If you are not able to get through the first time, please be patient. If you reach our voicemail system, please feel free to leave a message. We will check all of them. We appreciate your patience.

Please note that our Washington, DC office is open from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm (EST), Monday through Friday, and our New Mexico offices are open from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm (MT), Monday through Friday, unless otherwise specified on the voicemail message (e.g., federal holidays). Our Washington, DC staff will be in the office this weekend and taking phone calls. If you call during non-business hours, you will be placed in our voicemail system.

You can also email our office to share your opinion.

When the House voted for health insurance reform in November, we received a similar high volume of calls. Our Washington, DC staff stayed in the office on the Saturday of the vote and manned the phones until the evening. During the week of the vote, we handled calls from thousands of constituents. We are committed to hearing from the people of New Mexico's 3rd Congressional District, and we will continue to make every effort to hear from you.

Please continue to contact our offices and share your opinions.
