

Santa Fe, NM – Congressman Ben Ray Luján of New Mexico’s Third District announced today that he is hosting a Substance Abuse Prevention Community Workshop on Tuesday, February 22, 2011. The workshop will build on the Drug Summit that Luján convened last year, where treatment providers, federal agencies, community leaders, and law enforcement discussed how to fight substance abuse.

Tuesday’s workshop will bring together families, youth, and community organizations to discuss substance abuse prevention and community collaboration. The workshop will provide participants with educational material to learn about the signs and symptoms of drug use, preventive measures, and available resources to obtain treatment for drug use.
